SAYS $226 OF HIS WAS TAKEN

August Ebbing Files Suit to Set Aside Final Report of His Receiver, Jesse E. Creed.

FUNDS FRAUDULENTLY HELD

Michael Kney, Bondsman For Receiver and Guardian of Eb-bing's Daughter, a Defendant.

August Ebbing has filed a petition to set aside the final report and for judgment on a bond. The defendants in the suit are Jesse E. Creed and Michael Kney. Creed was appointed receiver for Ebbing and Kney was on his bond. In the petition to set aside the final report it is alleged that Creed failed to account for $226 and that he fraudulently, wrongfully and unlawfully concealed this amount of money, and purposely omitted it from his final report. It is set out in the complaint that A. L. Gary, acting as special judge, approved the final report of the receiver.

The receiver for Ebbing was appointed while he was an inmate of the insane asylum. Kney is the guardian of Ebbing's two daughters,
over which there has been much litigation.

Judge Raymond Springer took the bench in the circuit court today, acting as special judge in the injunction suit of Harry S., and Myrtle Conaway against Phillip Wilk and William Redman, doing business under the firm name of Wilk and Company. Judge Springer sustained a motion filed by the plaintiffs to require the attorneys for the defendendants to show their authority for appearing in the case.

In the motion it was alleged that several parties were interested that were not parties to the suit and it was pointed out that the attorneys might be appearing for this uninterested parties. The suit is the outgrowth of the building of the Forbes road in Ripley township. A compromise was reached at one time between Wilk & Co., and the present suit is the result of the work done
under the compromise agreement.

Judge Blair sustained a motion of defendant, Ella M. McIlvaine to strike out parts of the second paragraph of the claim, filed by Harry M. Hudson. The original demand in the claim is $7,000.

next Wednesday. The stand will be located near the main entrance of the city park.

SUE FOR LOSS OF A HORSE

Three Shippers Bring Action Against
C. C. C. & St. L. Road.

The C. C. C. & St. L. railway and the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific railway, were made defendants in a damage suit filed this morning by William E. Inlow, Cyrus E. Inlow and George E. Ogden. The plaintiffs allege that on March 15, 1914, they shipped twenty-six head of horses
from Kansas City, Mo., to Shelby-ville, Ind., and that through the negligence and careless handling of the horses one animal was so severely injured that it died. It is alleged that the horse had a market value of $165. The demand in the complaint is $180. The complaint states that the twenty-six head of horses were worth $3,500.

MRS. WILL PEARSEY DIES OF DIABETIS

Disease Brought on by Injury She Suffered in Fall From Automobile
About Two Years Ago.

MANY RELATIVES SURVIVE

Mrs. Clara B. Pearsey, 53 years old, wife of Will Pearsey, died last night at ten o'clock at her home in East Ninth street, following an illness of several months from diabe-tis. Mrs. Pearsey was injured about two years ago in a fall from an automobile and diabetes developed. The fall from the automobile caused Mrs.
Pearsey to lose her sense of smell and taste.

Mrs. Pearsey was a widely known woman and was a daughter of the late Dr. W. H. Smith. She had been in a critical condition for some time and her death was expected. She is survived by her husband and two sons, Hale and Horace. She also leaves her mother, two sisters, Mrs.
John H. Frazee, and Mrs. Lula Fish
of Indianapolis, and two brothers,
Dr. Will C. Smith and Walter E.
Smith.

The funeral services will be conducted Wednesday afternoon at two o'clock at the late residence and burial will take place in East Hill cemetery.

WE ALMOST LOST CHARLIE CHAPLIN

Famous Comedian Spends Last Night Along California Coast in a Tiny Launch.

FIT SUBJECT FOR A FILM

(By United Press.)
Santa Monica, Cal., Sept. 7.—The movie world almost lost Charlie Chaplin. With Jesse Robinson and Lew Twompley, the famous comedian was buffeted about in a tiny launch off the long wharf near Santa Monica. Chaplin's companions were overturned as they tried to make shore in a skiff. They finally made land exhausted by battling the surf.

Chaplin stuck to the launch and this morning wigwagged a nearby Japanese fishing village which sent out a dory with supplies.

Mrs. Kiser's Sunday school class of the Sexton Christian church will hold an exchange in Morris' hardware store in West Second street
Saturday, September 11.

FINAL PLANS ARE TO BE ARRANGED

Executive Committee Will Meet Tonight to Determine What Yet is Needed For Ox Roast.

RECAPITULATION IN ORDER

Urged That Rushville and Rush County People All Act as Entertainment Committee.

The executive committee of the organization formed to prepare the ox roast and barbecue here one week from tomorrow will hold a meeting tonight to hear reports of the committees to see just what has been accomplished and to plan the work for the one week that remains before the feast.

There are still many things to be done before Rush county Republicans will be ready to entertain the hosts of people that are expected.

The revised list of things needed for the noon meal sent by N. D.
Lawrence, the "burgoo" man, calls for forty or fifty chickens. The ox roast committee felt that it would be possible to find farmers who would donate the chickens and save the committee that much expense.
There is considerable expense attached to the ox roast because of the immense quantity of food that has to be purchased. Any farmers who would like to donate chickens may notify John H. Kiplinger, chairman of the ox roast committee.

One thing that is being impressed on the Republicans of Rushville and Rush county is that they should all consider themselves a special committee on entertainment on the day the Republicans pour in here from all parts of the state.

It is declared that no Rushville or Rush county people, no matter of what political faith, should try to get their dinner at the city park until all of the guests are fed. It is pointed out that Rush county, by entertaining such a crowd as is now expected, can gain an enviable reputation as a host of unusual worth.

Some Rushville persons were recalling today an event of the nature to be held here at Detroit a few years ago. There was a big meal spread free of charge to all who came on Belle Isle. The Detroit people—that is a part of them—made such a demonstration of hogishness as has never been seen and the newspapers far and wide took up the cry and ridiculed the city. Such a reputation was established that Detroit had a hard time living it down.
It is believed that the people of Rushville and Rush county will be genuine hosts and hostesses and will not allow any guest to say that they were not well treated here.

Word is expected most any time that the six hundred gallon kettle has arrived from Lexington, Ky. It is on the way and should be here very soon. The kettle will be a big attraction because many are anxious to see just what a kettle that big looks like.

Ivy company No. 35, Uniform
Rank, Knights of Pythias, will meet at the K. of P. building tonight at eight o'clock to make arrangements for the funeral of A. M. Price.

ODD FELLOWS NOTICE.

All Odd Fellows will meet at the hall at 1 o'clock Wednesday for the purpose of attending the funeral of A. M. Price.

FOR PRICE FUNERAL.

All Knights of Pythias
are requested to be at the hall at 1 o'clock
Wednesday to attend the funeral of A. M. Price.

ASSAILS WILSON MEXICAN POLICY

James E. Watson Says he Will "Stand by President" When he Finds Just Where he is.

POPULAR CRY IS ALL BOSH

Former Congressman Presents "Inside" of Foreign Policy at Republican Basket Dinner.

(Special to the Daily Republican.)
Noblesville, Sept. 7.—The inconsistencies of President Wilson's Mexican policies were never better shown than yesterday by James E.
Watson, addressing a large crowd
at the picnic of the Hamilton county Republicans. Mr. Watson discussed the tariff, the merchant marine and ended by telling the large audience
the facts about President Wilson and his attitude towards Mexico.

Mr. Watson stated that the president's Mexican policy was making this country the laughing stock of the world. He showed that the president had gone directly back on what he said in his Indianapolis speech regarding the interference of this country in Mexico.

"The old cry, 'stand by the president,' said Mr. Watson, 'is all bosh.
He is being praised for his diplomacy, by the Democratic press and party when as a matter of fact he has done the worst job of bungling in the history of the country.'"

Mr. Watson gave the audience the "inside" of the Mexican situation.
He stated that shortly after Wilson had been elected he went to the Bermudas for a vacation and while there met four members of the Madero family. These people poisoned the president against Huerta, according to Mr. Watson and from that time on the policy of this country has been against Huerta rather than against the people of that country.

Mr. Watson severely criticized the President for not protecting American lives and property in Mexico.
He stated that Bryan, when secretary of state, even went so far as to issue a proclamation stating that the United States would not be responsible for American lives on foreign soil. According to Mr. Watson, President Wilson went so far in his hatred against Huerta as to ask congress for an appropriation to fight this man.

"They say the president avoided war with Mexico," said Mr. Watson.
"The loss of sixteen Americans and 240 Mexicans and the capture of Vera Cruz constituted an act of war. Because of some trouble at Tampico, Huerta was ordered to salute the flag. Here was one of the inconsistencies. This country was not recognizing the Huerta government, but still he was asked to salute the flag. According to the Wilson way of thinking, Huerta did not own an ounce of powder, a single cannon and could not salute the flag
if he had tried, but the president tried to make him salute the flag.
He never did salute the flag.

"Then the president learned that Huerta was to get a ship load of ammunition and the navy was sent to Vera Cruz to prevent the landing of the arms. The city was captured, the ship of ammunition escaped and returned to Mobile. In a few days it sailed for another port and was landed for Huerta.

"Stand by the president," cry the Democrats. I will stand by him just as soon as I can find out where to locate him. He is now being praised for preventing war with Germany.
Why, goodness gracious this country
could not fight Germany if it wanted
too. If England can't use its navy

SIX MEXICANS ARE KILLED

Clash With Rangers Who Land a Trap For Them.

(By United Press.)
Brownsville, Tex., Sept. 7.—Six Mexicans were killed in a clash with rangers at Cazazos crossing last evening, according to information reaching here today. The dead are said to include a captain and lieutenant from the Constitutionalists garrison at Metamoras. The reports briefly stated that the Americans laid a trap and the Mexicans walked into it.
There were no American casualties.

PASSENGERS SAY THEY SAW A U-BOAT

Declare Hesperian Then Adopted a Zig Zag Course in Order to Avoid an Attack.

OFFICIALS NOT CONVINCED

(By United Press.)
London, Sept. 7.—Eight hours before the liner Hesperian was torpedoed a submarine was sighted a few miles astern by passengers, according to press dispatches from Queenstown this afternoon. The Hesperian then adopted a zig zag course to avoid attack, the dispatches said.
Officials merely reiterated their previous statements that all their reports showed the Hesperian commanders knew nothing of the approach of a submarine and therefore had no opportunity to attempt to escape.

MAKES UP BUDGET FOR THE NEXT YEAR

County Council Begins Annual Session to Appropriate Funds to Pay Expenses.

ABOUT $208,000 IS ASKED

The county council started work today making up the budget for next year. Something like $208,000 is to be appropriated at this session for the carrying on of the county's business for next year. The council discussed the proposed appropriations today but took no definite action as it is necessary to be in session two days to appropriate this large sum of money.

Joe Dickman, court house custodian struck a good day to ask the council for an appropriation for decorating the court house interior.
The roof of the building has not leaked all summer, or rather since it was repaired by Dickman. He took the county council and the county commissioners to the court house attie today during the rain. Several bad leaks were found and Dickman was made the victim of a lot of "kidding" by both the council and the commissioners. Dickman promised to repair the leaks discovered today, and it is understood that several of the rooms will be redecorated.

MAKE SMALL HAUL.

(By United Press.)
Bedford, Ind., Sept. 7.—Yeggmen who blew the safe of the Standard Oil company here early today escaped with a small amount of money and destroyed valuable papers. They worked so quietly that no one heard the explosion.

MAYOR BELL PUT ON TRIAL TODAY

Attorneys For Defense Charge Accused in Conspiracy Cases Were Interested With.

DEFENDANTS ARE ADMITTED

Business of Selecting Jury Goes Forward Slowly Because of Prominence of Men.

(By United Press.)
Indianapolis, Ind., September 7.— Attorneys for the defense in the trial of Mayor Joseph E. Bell, which started today in criminal court, charged in a statement in court before Judge W. H. Eichhorn, that bailiffs of the court had been interfering with the admittance of others accused in the election conspiracy charges. Judge Eichhorn issued no orders, but intimated that all those under indictment, but whose trial will come later will be admitted.

Prosecutor Rucker told the court that the bailiffs had been instructed to seat the 100 accused men and then admit others to the court room.

Frank P. Baker, former Marion county prosecutor, and one of the indicted men, had an altercation
when a bailiff refused to admit him.
Many uncomplimentary things were said. Thomas Taggart, Democratic national committeeman, was with Baker. After several minutes they were admitted.

Business of securing a jury for this trial, of particular political interest to Indiana, went forward very slowly. An hour passed with many men offering an excuse that business would interfere with them serving on the jury.

Attorney Ryan for the defense presented a motion asking dismissal of seven men summoned by Sheriff Coffin for jury service when Coffin's deputies reported that seven men on the regular panel could not be found.
Ryan contended that this action was taken under the jurisdiction of Judge Collins, who, he said, was not now judge. Judge Eichhorn took the motion under advisement until this afternoon.

When Mayor Joseph E. Bell, went on trial here today, charged with conspiring to corrupt the recent Marion county elections, the entire Democratic organization of the city and county went on trial with him.

The state organization also was connected with this trial, for Thomas Taggart, Democratic National committee from Indiana, is named in the indictment that brought Bell to trial. Taggart, Bell and Chief of Police Samuel V. Perrott and more than 100 other politicians were recently indicted by the Marion county grand jury following an investigation that continued for weeks.
One petition of the defense separate trials were granted. The state elected to try Mayor Bell first.

For a time the public generally looked upon the indictment of the leaders with little seriousness until six of the defendants pleaded guilty when arraigned. When James ("Bud") unexpectedly pleaded guilty to the charge in this indictment just prior to his trial on another indictment, the public understood that the Democratic leaders had a fight on their hands.

Special Judge W. H. Eichhorn of Bluffton, presided today. He has a wide reputation in this state as a progressive Democrat and a fearless judge. Alvah J. Rucker was elected prosecutor on the Republican ticket at the election the defendants are alleged to have sought to corrupt.

The indictment consists of forty-eight counts which charge that commission of offenses that are felonies

SEED WHEAT IS SERIOUS TOPIC

Unusual Wet Season This Calls For

Extra Vigilance on Part of The Farmers

PURDUE EXPERT'S OPINION

While Many Have to Sow What They Have, Much Can be Done Toward Improving Quality

"The question of seed wheat for Indiana farmers is a serious one and deserves careful consideration," says Prof. M. L. Fisher of Purdue University. "The unusually wet season this year has left the seed wheat proposition in a serious condition. Very few farmers were able to thresh before the wet weather began. Still fewer took the precaution to put their wheat in the stack or mow. The result was that much of the wheat sprouted in the shock and some of it actually rotted where it stood in water. Observation at the various elevators throughout the State shows that the wheat being put on the market is of a very low grade, much of it grading not better than No. 4, and much of it grading as Sample. The condition of the wheat which is being marketed leads one to suppose that that which is to be used for seed is of very little better quality. If such wheat is to be sown, the results are sure to be disappointing.

"While the majority of the farmers will have to sow what they have, yet a great deal can be done to improve the quality of the seed. First of all the seed should be thoroughly cleaned with the farming mill. Not only should it be thoroughly cleaned, but it should be carefully screened. All of the sprouted grain and others which did not sprout but swelled up can be either fanned out or screened out. The medium sized grains which have not swollen from being wet in the shock will make the best seed. In fact it will be better to sow the small plump grains rather than the large grains. Two or three times through the fanning mill with attention given to the screens will so greatly improve the quality of the wheat that it can be sown with assurance of success.

"In many cases the grain may have heated after it was threshed, due to the fact that it was put in the bin or in a large heap when it was too damp. Such heating has been destroying the germinating quality of the grain. Where the grain has been heated it will be well to make a germination test to see what the germinating quality of the grain is. This germinating test can be very easily made by counting out three one-hundred grain lots and sowing them in a box or in the garden, or they can be germinated on plates between folds of damp cloth. Three lots should be used in order to have a careful check on the results. After the wheat has come up or sprouted, counts should be made to see what per cent of germination has taken place. If less than 90 per cent germinates, the amount of seed corn sown per acre should be increased over the usual rate or else new seed obtained.

"In connection with the poor condition of wheat due to the wet season, a word might also be said concerning the condition of seed wheat generally. Observation shows that a large amount of the wheat brought to the elevators is made up of many varieties and is also badly infested with weed seeds, like cockle and cheat. Evidently the seed which was sown contained these seeds in considerable numbers. Yields would be better and grades higher if more attention was given to sowing pure varieties and cleaned seed. Many farmers are making a specialty of pure seeds, and clean and pure seed can usually be obtained if attention is given to the matter. The weed seeds can be removed by careful fanning and where this does not seem to be worth while it would be better to purchase new seed."

BALL IS TRIED BY COURT MARTIAL

State Militiaman Goes on Trial For

His Life Before a Jury of Thirteen Officers

SHOT PRIVATE DOWELL IN 1913

Only Majority of Military Court is Needed to Convict—What Ball's Defense Will be

(By United Press.)

Indianapolis, Sept. 7.—Militiaman Edwin C. Ball today went on trial for his life in the state house. It is believed to be the first time in the history of Indiana a member of the state guard was tried by court martial on the charge of murder.

Walter Dowell, a member of the company from Madison, was shot and fatally wounded by Ball, a sergeant, who was detailed to do provost duty.

Ball's defense today was that he was acting under military orders when he commanded Dowell to halt and that when Dowell failed to halt on command, he shot to kill, following army instructions.

Ball was on provost duty at the national guard encampment at Fort Benjamin Harrison here. It was in July, 1912. Dowell was under suspicion of smuggling liquor into camp. Sergeant Ball had arrested him and was taking his prisoner into camp on an interurban car when Dowell leaped from the car and ran.

Two-thirds of the military court of thirteen officers is needed to convict. The court as named in an order issued by Adj. Gen. Bridges, includes the following:—

Col. Henri T. Conde, of Indianapolis, commander of the Second regiment; Lieut. Col. Thomas B. Coulter, Vincennes, Second Regiment; Mayor S. N. Markley, Columbia City, First, battalion, Third Regiment; Major Emmett F. Branch, Martinsville, Second battalion, Second regiment; Major Clyde F. Dreisbach, Fort Wayne, Third battalion, Second regiment; Maj. Geo. H. Healey, Rensselaire, Second battalion, Third regiment; Capt. Edward Otto, Crawfordville, Company C, Second regiment; Capt. William P. Carpenter, Indianapolis, quartermaster's corps; Capt. Albert Catlin, Terre Haute, quartermasters' corps; Capt. Ernest E. Chenoweth, Winchester, Company F., Second regiment; Capt. John C. Lochner, Auburn, in charge of commissary, Third regiment; Capt. Laurant A. Douglass, Jeffersonville, Company M., Second regiment; Capt. Alexander W. Osborn, Evansville, Company E., Second regiment and Maj. Gideon W. Blaine, Indianapolis judge advocate.

Blaine, who is an Indianapolis attorney, acted as prosecutor. Under military custom the judge advocate has more latitude than a civil or criminal judge. He may also act as defense attorney, stating the case on both sides. This was unnecessary in this case, as Ball had attorneys.

They say that the advent of the "sentinel tablet" as a vegetable substitute for calomel has reached an extraordinary demand for this remarkable product. It seems to have made a hit particularly with those afflicted with chronic constipation, who were quick to recognize its advantages over calomel and the usual laxatives. Sentinal tablets, aside from their efficacy, doubtless owe their success largely to a tendency to aid in bringing about natural functioning—instead of encouraging the "catarrhal habit." Also, instead of injuring the membranous lining of the organs involved, they exert a healing influence. Instead of weakening, they add tone to the intestinal wall. And they work so easily and gently, they are of course preferred on this account to the violently acting purgatives. Their inexpressiveness is another reason for the popularity of sentinal tablets. One need procure only a dime's worth, and take one tablet upon retiring, to be convinced that the ideal remedy for constipation, torpid liver, and their many evil consequences, has finally been found.—Drug-gists Review.

WAR ODDITIES

London—Due to the absence of the German piano supply new pianos in England are at a premium and second hand instruments are of higher value today than at any time since pianos were invented 140 years ago.

London—Women have invaded the very sanctum of British conservatism—the Bank of England—where 200 are now employed.

Amsterdam—Austrian dealers are reported to have purchased between two and three million rabbit skins at the Leipzig fur market for winter clothing for the Austrian army.

Rome—Eighteen thousand priests are fighting with the Italian army.

True Secret of Keeping Youthful Looking

(The Beauty Seeker.)

"The real secret of keeping young-looking and beautiful," says a well-known hygienist, "is to keep the liver and bowels normally active. Without these requisites, poisonous waste products remain in the system, polluting the blood and lodging in various organs, tissues, joints. One becomes habby, obese, nervous, mentally sluggish, dull-eyed, wrinkled and sallow of face.

"But to get live and bowels working as they ought, without producing evil after-effects, has been the problem. Fortunately, there is a prescription of unquestioned merit, which may now be had in convenient tablet form. Its value is due largely to an ingredient derived from the humble May apple, or its root, which has been called 'vegetable calomel' because of its effectiveness—though of course it is not to be classed with the real calomel of medicinal origin. There is no habit-forming constituent in 'sentinel' tablets—that's the name—and their use is not followed by weakness or exhaustion. On the contrary, these harmless vegetable tablets tend to impart tone and elasticity to the relaxed intestinal wall. Sentinal tablets, which may be procured from any druggist—a dime's worth will do—will prove a revelation to any constipated, liver-troubled person."

Chief Cause of Pimples, Blotches, Sallow Skin

(Messenger of Health.)

Unightly eruptions, pimples, boils, blotches, sallow or muddy skin, usually are due to a sluggish, inactive, bowels—and a polluted blood stream as a consequence. How foolish in such cases to resort to outward applications, which can never have natural, permanent results. If more people only knew it, there is a very simple remedy, to be found in any drug store, which is as effective as it is harmless. It is a natural, permanent formula, long recognized by the medical profession, which has been put in tablet form, and at such small cost no one need now be deprived of its wonderful benefits. "Sentinal tablets"—that's the name—are entirely vegetable and there's no habit-forming ingredient. You need only get about a dime's worth, and swallow one at bedtime to realize there's nothing else quite so good for the purpose. The action in the morning is so easy, so soothing, and instead of a weakening after-effect, you feel truly refreshed and invigorated. Sentinal tablets are not only the finest remedy known for constipation and torpid liver, but offer the sanest, most sensible treatment for complexion difficulties of the character mentioned.

Great Demand for New Constipation Remedy

They say that the advent of the "sentinel tablet" as a vegetable substitute for calomel has reached an extraordinary demand for this remarkable product. It seems to have made a hit particularly with those afflicted with chronic constipation, who were quick to recognize its advantages over calomel and the usual laxatives.

Sentinal tablets, aside from their efficacy, doubtless owe their success largely to a tendency to aid in bringing about natural functioning—instead of encouraging the "catarrhal habit." Also, instead of injuring the membranous lining of the organs involved, they exert a healing influence. Instead of weakening, they add tone to the intestinal wall. And they work so easily and gently, they are of course preferred on this account to the violently acting purgatives. Their inexpressiveness is another reason for the popularity of sentinal tablets. One need procure only a dime's worth, and take one tablet upon retiring, to be convinced that the ideal remedy for constipation, torpid liver, and their many evil consequences, has finally been found.—Drug-gists Review.

FUNERAL TO BE HELD WEDNESDAY AT 2 P.M.

Body of A. M. Price, Who Dropped Dead at Indianapolis, Arrives Here Monday Night.

AT HITCHRACK FOR 11 YEARS

The funeral services of A. M. Price, hitchrack tender, who dropped dead while marching with Ivy company No. 35, Uniform Rank, Knights of Pythias, of this city, at the "War in Indiana" maneuvers at the Indianapolis motor Speedway, Monday afternoon, will be held at the First Baptist church, of which he was a member, at two o'clock Wednesday afternoon, conducted by Rev. S. G. Huntington.

Russell D. Price, of this city, who was in one of the grandstands at the Speedway, when his father died, had been chatting with him when they entered the gate, not more than five minutes before death came. The younger Mr. Price remarked to a friend that his father seemed a bit excited, but thought nothing of it. His father had never suffered from heart trouble and had never had a serious sickness.

In addition to his membership in the Knights of Pythias for thirty years, he was an Odd Fellow and a social member of the Modern Woodmen. Mr. Price was born in Washington county, Pennsylvania April 15, 1849 and came to Decatur county, Indiana, early in life with his parents, later locating here. An error was made Monday in stating he was a civil war veteran. He attempted to enter, but was refused admittance because he was too young. He was in charge of the hitchrack here eleven years.

HARLAN OVERLEESE RECOVERS PROPERTY

Discovers That Bert Pierce, Sent to Penal Farm, Pawned Watch in Shelbyville For $2.50.

PIERSE WROTE HIM LETTER

Harlan P. Overleese of Greensburg, whose watch, chain and Elk charm was stolen by Bert Pierce, a professed millionaire, who left here yesterday to serve eighty days in the state penal farm for neglecting to pay a board bill at the Windsor hotel, Monday recovered his stolen property in Shelbyville. Pierce had pawned the whole outfit to a Shelbyville business man for $2.50.

Overleese had filed a grand larceny charge against Pierce and the Greensburg police were looking for him when the Rushville police went to Shelbyville and nabbed him last Friday night.

After being convicted here, Pierce wrote Overleese a letter and told him to whom he had pawned the watch, chain and charm. The letter did not reach Overleese until he had recovered the property.

Pierce filched the watch and other ornaments in a high-handed manner. He asked to examine them and then walked out while Overleese was not looking.

under the laws of the state. It covers 224 typewritten pages. Conviction on the charge of conspiracy to commit a felony carries with it a fine of not less than $25 or more than $5,000 or imprisonment in the state prison for not less than two years nor more than fourteen years.

The first count charges that certain election officials conspired with other defendants to permit unknown persons to take out of the ballot boxes ballots of voters legally voting for the purpose of substituting other ballots in their place. Succeeding counts allege tampering with tally sheets and other papers, illegal destruction of ballots, entering false names on the poll books, bribery, intimidation of voters etc. Mayor Bell is named in each of the counts.

When court convened today the general prediction was that a stiff fight would be made in the selection of a jury. Various predictions of two days to ten days were made for the time to be required in this selection. A special venire of 150 men was ready.

BELIEVE THEY HAVE FAIR JUDGE

Both Sides in Joe Bell Criminal Case Think W. Eichorn of Bluffton Will be Impartial

CHOICE OF ALL LAWYERS

(By United Press.) Indianapolis, Sept. 7.—In Judge W. Eichorn of Bluffton who is to preside in the trial of Mayor Joseph E. Bell, which opened today, both the defendants and the state believe they have a court that is fair and impartial. When Judge James A. Collins allowed the motion of the defense that another judge be chosen to preside, Judge Eichorn was the unanimous choice of Prosecutor Rucker and the attorneys for the indicted men.

Judge Eichorn has a good record as jurist and as a lawyer. In 1912 he was elected for the judgeship of the Twenty-eighth judicial circuit which comprises Wells and Blackford counties. During his three years on the bench he has not had a motion for change of judge filed in his court.

The Bluffton judge is forty-nine years old and has been prominent in Northern Indiana for a number of years. His first office was that of county superintendent to which he was elected in 1891 and to which he was re-elected in 1893. He resigned before the expiration of the second term to enter the practice of law. In 1897 he was elected to the House of Representatives and reelected in 1899 in which session he was the minority candidate for speaker.

Because of his reputation of fairness and honesty, Judge Eichorn has presided as special judge in a large number of trials.

RAIN STORM LOCAL IN ITS CHARACTER

Reports Reaching Here This Afternoon Were That it Did not Rain on Northern Edge of County.

MUCH CORN IS BLOWN DOWN

Although local in character, the storm about noon today was probably the most severe of the year. The wind was of greater velocity than usual for summer storms and threatened to do considerable damage. There were several very brilliant flashes of lightning and loud claps of thunder, but no reports have reached here of damage done by lightning.

A few miles north of Rushville there was only a little rain and at the northern edge of the county no rain fell at all. The storm came up out of the southwest suddenly like a summer thunder storm. Farmers who came to Rushville this afternoon say that much corn was blown down. They say the corn is so heavy this year that it will not rise again, once it is bent over the least bit.

Patience Lost.

The Madison Democrat has lost patience with the fellows in the donkey's saddle in Indiana. The editor takes issue with Democratic state press agent who, the editor says, is trying to cover up the nefarious work of the 1913 legislature.

The Democrat asserts that President Wilson's record, "who has aimed to do just what was right," is the only thing that will save the Democratic party in Indiana next year. The editor of the Democrat fails to take into consideration that the world is full of people who are doing what they think is right. That does not make it right.

But listen to how the Democratic party in Indiana is fast racing to the eternal "howbows" and for which there would be no hope, were it not for the president:

"The Indianapolis writer who is sending out his daily wireups supposed to be in the interest of the Democratic party, and for free publication in the democratic press of the state, would have more effect if he would stick closely to the truth. He must remember the public today are well posted on public affairs, as all are readers of the daily press; and he must be a backwoodsman, indeed, who does not remember the 1913 Legislature and its nefarious bills and salary grabs due, not to the democratic party, but those who were running the democratic party, among them several that are now serving time in the Federal prison.

The democratic party is all right. It is the true party of the people. But when rogues and dishonest politicians get hold of the reins, as they have in past in many cases, then it becomes the servant of private and special interests.

"This particular writer is striving to cover up all this devilry of the past, and instead of holding up before the people the true principles of the party, is striving to whitewash the linen of the men who have been dragging the party into the dirt and befouling themselves have made honest men suspicious even of the party.

"The only thing that will save the democratic party in Indiana next year will be President Wilson's record, who has aimed to do just what he thought was right, ignoring the councils of the men who were working for self interest. It behooves the honest leaders of the party in Indiana to bestir themselves, not trying to hide the sins of the men who have driven honest men from the party, but holding up the party principles as the fathers gave them to use, and showing a determination to see that those principles are honestly carried out and dishonest leaders set aside."

HOOSIER HISTORY

(Prepared for the United Press by the Indiana Historical Commission)

CALEB MILLS

Among the greatest benefactors of Indiana was Caleb Mills, the Horace Mann of Indiana, the "father of the common schools." Fresh from Dartmouth he came to Crawfordsville in 1833, when twenty-seven years old, to start a Presbyterian college. Appalled at the ignorance and illiteracy of the people, he began to preach the gospel of education. In a series of most remarkable addresses to the legislatures of 1846-50 and to the Constitutional convention of 1852, known as the "Read, Circulate, Discuss, Pamphlets," he portrayed the dark conditions and outlined a program of reform. His style was crystal clear, sparkled with wit and glowed with the eloquence of the advocate who pleads for those he loves. The Constitutional convention made provision for a system of free schools and the first battle was won.

CLOWN ENTERTAINS CROWD

Officers Laugh And Applaud Without Reserve, Enjoying Fun as Much as The Privates

The following is the first of three stories by William Philip Simms detailing recent observations at the French front. The second tomorrow.

"There has been a violent bombardment of the Forest of Apremont."—From the French Communiqué of Aug. 5.

With the French Army at the Front, Aug. 5. (By Mail)—When the performances of Bernhardt, Irving, Duse and Mansfield cease to be anything but faint recollections I shall still remember quite vividly an unpretentious vaudeville show given by soldiers to soldiers out here in the open air 1500 yards back of a certain famous woods through which a must unhealthy part of the firing-line runs.

The performers were soldiers; the stage was built by soldiers with scraps of lumber collected here and there; the curtain was painted by a cavalryman on tarpaulins which had served in the beginning as covers for boxes of ammunition; the sky and a few walnut trees played the part of roof, while that part of the regimental band not busy bearing wounded on stretchers off the battlefield, furnished the music, these men and a young, stoutish surgeon-lieutenant who doubled on the piano when not stage-managing the acts.

The bill was the regular bill. It was not specially arranged for visitors. Since Jan. 14 this "house" has been playing to standing room only two performances a day, at 2 p. m. and at 6. Sometimes—as often as possible—the bill changes, sometimes the headliner fails to be on hand for his cue; a shell or a bullet has interfered. But always, rain or shine, good or bad, the curtain "goes up" on time and the soldiers on their repose week (usually they have a week in and a week back of the trenches) never miss a performance.

As 6 p. m. drew near the plank benches in front were creaking under their maximum burden and hundreds of other poilus—the soldiers nickname for himself, meaning shaggy, were standing at the back and on either side. A heavy rain began to fall precisely at 6 o'clock but the fat surgeon, on opening the piano, turned and shouted.

"Poilus, you don't mind a little thing like a few drops of rain do you?"

"No!" the poilus thundered back and the surgeon, sitting down in a very wet chair began pounding out an astonished intermezzo on a no doubt greatly outraged piano. For, being in the place where the orchestra usually sits the piano as well as pianist was catching the full force of the young cloudburst. Every time a chubby finger struck a key there was a splash.

As the curtains parted the Germans began to bombard the French positions a short distance away. The explosions of shells punctuated every spoken line which followed and beat time to the music as if jealous of the big base drum.

A clown in costume and make-up which only the ingenuity of a French soldier can account for, rushed out and began to sing and grimace. The audience roared. It was clear that he was a favorite. He was just back from the trenches and as he jabbered a comic patter song, grimaces and antics like any Barnum & Bailey star, one caught sight of his articulation number bound by a steel chain to his wrist; for identification in case he fails to dodge a bullet some day. The clown sang on and when he got round to the chorus his comrades in front joined in. A captain of dragons, occupying a seat on a bench reserved for officers, sang and laughed with the others, freely and without reserve, yet I recognized in this captain a count and member of one of the proudest families in the Faubourg nobility of Paris.

The clown with his identification tag gave way amid applause to an acrobatic soldier—in peace times a professional—wearing the pink tights of tradition. He too, had a tag on his wrist. A horizontal bar had been rigged upon the stage and as the soldier in pink tights began to girate upon it, the "comic" partner came out and "comicked" in the way everyone who has ever seen a variety show knows. Under his very much too large "comic" dress coat, on a very muscular wrist, was his in-case-of-death tag never letting one forget that just over the ridge a ways death was falling out of the skies at that very minute. The tags and the bombardment made the war seem very near.

An imitator of Houini came next, wriggling out of handcuffs, padlocks and chains, ropes and other queer paraphernalia. No chains seemed too securely fastened about him for him to free himself of it—save the one which held the plaque which would identify him if some day he and a shell should get too well acquainted.

After him a British Red Cross attendant, in khaki, sang "Alexander's Rag Time Band" execratically bad to much applause from his allies. And when he completely broke down as to voice he laughed good naturedly and allowed his legs to do a not bad "Buzzard Lope."

Last on the bill, save the movies—they have movies at many points along the front now—came a singer, an ordinary-looking soldier in an everyday uniform considerably the worse for trench-wear. He was of less than average height and not even his small blond mustache could lift his appearance to one of very great dignity. I was told that in private life he was a cobbler, so as the surgeon splashed into a bar of a dreamy and rather pretty ballad, I feared the worse, feeling not a little kindly towards the Germans who were now making more noise than ever with their bombardment. With the singer's first notes, however I changed my mind. The notes were like pure gold.

Boom! Bang! went the Prussian shells close by.

"Twas just a tiny flower dropped besides my way!" sang the French soldier, paying no attention to the noise. He put all the artistic interpretation of a Caruso, in his song. B a a a a a p; went another shell.

"Just a little rosebud fallen from her hand!" This line came as an incongruous response to the terrific explosion.

B o o o o o m! B o o o o o m! More high explosives seemed to make the leaves tremble but the tenor-warrior-shoemaker with his hand on his heart continued to the end of his refrain and bowed before the tempest of applause. He had to take an encore and he deserved it, every hand-clap of it, so again, with piano, flute clarinet and the patter of rain accompanying him, he repeated the verse, while the big guns chimed in a good substitute for the band drum, now soaked and out of commission:

"Twas just a tiny flower dropped beside my way!"

Just a little rosebud fallen from her hand!

But Cupid cuddled in it and with his little lay

Turned all things to golden, like Midas, in the land!"

K. OF C.'S CONTINUE WINNING STREAK

Get to Fisher For Five Runs in the Fifth Inning and Carry Off Game
From K of P's.

DID NOT COUNT IN STANDING

The fast traveling Knights of Columbus team defeated the K. of P. aggregation Monday afternoon by a score of 9 to 5. The game was an exhibition contest and did not count in the Fraternal league standing, greatly to the liking of the Knights of Pythias.

The K. of P. team took an early lead scoring one run in the first inning. This lead of one run was held until the first of the fourth when Fisher weakened and the Kaysees scored two runs. Then Fisher blew up in the next inning and the Irish counted five times. This did not stop the K. of P's, as they made a game effort to get the runs back by scoring four times in the last of the sixth. This lead, however, was too much, and the K. of C.'s came out ahead.

Conde succeeded Fisher in the box and held the Kaysees safe, the rest of the way. Slat's Connolly pitching for the K. of C.'s was hit hard in the fifth but had a shade of the support. The winners played a slightly better game in the field. The same teams meet Friday afternoon in a schedule game of the Fraternal league.

PROMOTERS TO START BOYCOTT

Chicago Fight Fans Tired of Boosting Game For Milwaukee And Want More Recognition

HAVE PLENTY OF GOOD BOXERS

As it is Now They Don't Even Get a Place of The Preliminaries,
James Backs Move

BY J. P. YODER
(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)
Chicago, Sept. 6.—Fight promoters and boxer managers of Chicago today took steps to boycott Wisconsin fights. Headed by Harry James, fight promoter and manager of the crack litle bantam Johnie Richie, local promoters and fight fans will organize to force the Wisconsin promoters, and particularly the Milwaukee fight club managers to give more recognition to Chicago boxers.

The feeling that Chicago boxers and promoters have been getting the hollow end of the horn from the Wisconsin crowd, has been growing for some time. The Chicagoans claim that although they take the Chicago end of boosting matches and through their local publicity work overlook them completely when it comes to engaging preliminary fighters.

"There are a lot of mighty good boys down on their laces because they can't get fights, these days," said James. "There isn't a reason in the world why they shouldn't get some of the prelim pickings. They help us get rid of a bunch of tickets every time Milwaukee and other Wisconsin cities pull a battle. All they get is a ticket to the show. What they want, and what they want to get is a chance to fight for more money."

James has behind him all the fight fans and newspapers of Chicago and in calling a meeting of the local promoters today, declared it will be a fight to a finish. And, though James generally runs to managing fighters he has a reputation as being able to stage a little fight of his own some times.

SOME FRESHMEN GOOD PROSPECTS

Minnesota's Stoical Coach is Thinking About Football, But he is Saying Very Little.

VARSITY STARS ARE BACK

Students Are Looking Forward With Pleasure to Open Practice, Required by Conference Rules.

(By United Press.)
St. Paul, Minn., Sept. 7.—Stoical Dr. L. H. Williams, Minnesota coach, today promised the United Press to break his sphinxlike attitude—and "Doc" came through with the sum total statement that he has been thinking about football lately. With the "Big Nine" rules prohibiting practice before September 20, rigidly observed, there has been no attempt to take from baseball the pre-eminence it deserves by reason of St. Paul and Minneapolis waging the war for first place.

Sig Harris, first assistant coach to "Doc" Williams, for ten years, will be in harness again this season and Boles Rosenthal, captain of the varsity team last year will assist him. Fitzgerald will lookout for the yearling. The "Doc" has successfully conducted a training school for coaches.

Veterans to be back this year are:—Captain Solon, Dunnigan, Sinclair, Quist, Baston, Haegge, B. Beirman Townley and Maier. The latter two have to make their peace with the registrar, by reason of scholastic deficiencies. Hauser Gray, Johnson, Long, Wyman, Kaufman, Anderson, Hanser and Foote of the Freshman varsity last year are expected to make valient fight for the places made vacant by Hamilton, Feidrick and other stars, by reason of graduation. Students are looking forward with pleasure to the innovation of open practice, made necessary by the conference rules which prohibit secret practice more than twice a week.

Football at local colleges McAlester, Hamline and St. Thomas look fair. John McGovern, coach at McAlester, is tied up in the war zone, but confidence is expressed that he will be ther as advertised.

DICK WILSON WINS SECOND IN TROT

Drives Peter the Gay to Place in
First Start of Season at State Fair Monday.

JONES TO START TODAY

Dick Wilson, Rushville trainer, took second money in the 2:21 trot at state fair Monday with Peter the Gay. It was the first start of the season for the trotter and he showed well, finishing second the first two heats and fourth the third heat.

Harrie Jones was due to start The Importer in the 2:10 pacing class. The Importer is owned at Huntington, Ind. Bob White, a horse entered by John D. Megee of this city, was scheduled to start in the 2:25 pace today.

Burney Patchen, the bay gelding in the stable of John W. Rhodes of Greshburg, which won a pace at the county fair, took second money Monday at the state fair in the 2:12 pace, finishing third in the first heat and second in the last two. Rhodes is said to have paid $75 for Burney Patchen at the close of the last racing season. It was thought the horse was no longer any good for racing purposes.

BOATS RACE FOR $25,000 TROPHY

Blue Ribbon Event of Speedboat
World is in Lake Michigan
Today.

HYDROPLANE IS ENTERED

Carl Fisher of Indianapolis Has Entered Presto—Pugh After Championship.

(By United Press.)
Chicago, Sept. 7.—Thousands of speedboat enthusiasts jammed the shores along Lake Michigan as the first of a series of three races for the American speedboat championship, the blue-ribbon event in the power-boat world, got under way this afternoon.

The race which is the fourth annual championship affair, is for the William Wrigley, Jr., $25,000 trophy, emblematic of the American speedboat championship. The distance is thirty miles and is held under the auspices of the Associated Yacht and Power Boat clubs of America, of which Mayor Thompson of Chicago is Commodore.

The Disturber V, James A. Pugh's new $25,000 hydroplane was the center of attraction. This boat which had a spectacular accident a few days ago, when it plunged to the bottom of Lake Michigan off the mouth of the Chicago river, has engines of 900 horse-power and a speed estimated at seventy miles an hour. It was built especially for the race today by Pugh, whose chief hobby is winning this event. His disturber IV, also entered, won the championship last year.

The enteries are: Disturber IV and V, James A. Pugh, Chicago; Peter Pan, James Simpson and J. P. Bickell of New York; Baby Reliance, J. Stuart Blackton, Brooklyn, N. Y.; Miss Detroit, by a syndicate of Detroit, Mich., sportsmen; Hydro Bullet, Earl Deakin, Elkhorn, Wis; Barnacle, W. C. Seele, Waukegan, Ill.; Black Demon, Johnson Brothers, Fort Wayne, Ind. Pestro, Carl Fisher, Indianapolis, Ind; and Buffalo Inquirer, W. J. Conners, Buffalo, N. Y.

The two races remaining will be run tomorrow and Thursday the winner to be determined by a point system. Each boat finishing receives a point for entry and one point for each boat it defeats. The course is twice around the four mile cribs.

STATE TRACK MEET

Key West, Fla., Sept. 6.—The Florida State Track and Field Meet will be saged here this afternoon under the auspices of the Key West club. A large number of entries have been received and several A. A. U. championships will be decided.

NOT TO REFUTE EVIDENCE

Austrian Ambassador Will Use Con-

(By United Press.)
Washington, Sept. 7.—That Austrian Ambassador Dimba will make no effort at his conference today with Secretary Lansing to refute the evidence of his alleged plan to tie up ammunition manufacturers with labor troubles, but will attempt to justify his act on the grounds of intolerable conditions, was made known today from good authority.

TRESPASSED LIMITATIONS

Congress Overstepped Its Bounds in One Section of Federal Reserve Board Act

SPEECH AT BANKERS MEET
Henry M. Campbell of Detroit Refers to Section Confering Trustee Powers on Banks

(By United Press.)
Seattle, Wash., Sept. 7.—That Congress trespassed constitutional limitations in one section of the Federal Reserve Board Act and that the Reserve Board is going beyond its rights in proceeding under that section was the declaration of Henry M. Campbell, of Detroit, to the American Bankers Association today. The section he referred to is that permitting the board to confer trustee powers on national banks. It was the principal discussion of the opening day of the convention, attended by hundreds of bankers, though a discussion of the relations between the railroads and the people led by President William Spruille of the Southern Pacific on the one hand and Rev. John W. Hill of Seattle on the other divided interest with it.

Congress did the damage, complained of, Campbell said, in a four-line paragraph which said the Reserve Board should have power "To grant by special permit to national banks applying there for, where not in contravention of state or local law, the right to act as trustee, executor, administrator or registrar of stocks and bonds, under such rules and regulations as the said Board may prescribe."

"From the beginning of our government," he said, "fiduciary trusts have been defined and regulated by local law; the administration of estates has belonged exclusively to the states where the property of the deceased is located, and the subjects upon which the inhabitants of a state may contract have been prescribed by state authority. The state laws pertaining to these matters fill volumes of our state statutes. They vary in the several states according to local requirements and are the result of years of effort on the part of the representatives of the people affected by them. By virtue of this brief paragraph of four lines, if valid, all these statutes may be set at naught."

"In order to arrive at a solution of this problem, three questions must be considered:

"First.—Has Congress itself authority, under the Federal Constitution, to confer upon national banks the right to exercise the powers stated in Section 11 (k)?

"Second.—If it can lawfully do so itself, can it delegate such authority to the Federal Reserve Board?

"Third.—If neither the Federal Reserve Board nor Congress itself can confer such powers upon national banks, have the states, or any of them, consented to the exercise of them, and if so, will consent on the part of the state be effective?"

Answering his own first question, Campbell said there was nothing to be found in the Constitution giving Congress authority to create corporations for any purpose though it has the implied authority to create them as appropriate instruments for carrying into effect the powers of the government.

"No one will contend," he said, "that the right to act as trustee, executor, administrator or registrar of stocks and bonds is in any sense necessary to the administration of the affairs of the Federal government. Neither is such right an integral or essential part of the business carried on by national banks. It is not a banking function."

Therefore the section cannot be sustained upon any theory of implied powers.

He disposed of his own second question by declaring Congress could not delegate authority to the Reserve Board to create a corporation or add to a corporation's powers, because such an act involves legislative discretion and can only be exercised by the Legislature.

As for various states giving consent—his third question—he declared.

"To do so would, in effect, be to permit the state legislature to amend the Federal Constitution. In other words, it is impossible to give effect to the section without violating the constitutional rights of the states. Two sovereign powers cannot occupy exclusive authority over the same object any more than two solid bodies can occupy the same space at the same time."

The answer to the third question must be that no state has consented to the exercise of the powers specified in the section upon the terms and conditions there stated, and that consent on the part of the state, even if granted, would be ineffectual.

"Before the theory of Section 11 can be carried out, an amendment to the Federal Constitution would be required under which the states surrender their sovereign authority over many of their local affairs and permit Congress to designate by whom and in what manner such affairs shall be administered. Such an amendment would not accord with our tradition, and would constitute an unwarranted invasion of rights which have heretofore been jealously guarded by the people. It is contrary to the spirit of American liberty and dangerous as well, than any man, or body of men, shall have the unrestricted power to say to one bank, 'You may act as trustee, executor, administrator or registrar of bonds,' and to another bank, 'You shall not,' or to dictate to the favored bank the manner in which it shall make use of the privileges thus granted."

"There is also something repugnant in the idea that a man from one part of the country, unfamiliar with local needs, possesses the power to impose his ideas upon a far distant community with which perhaps he has nothing in common, and of whose ideas and necessities he is ignorant. Local self government is not a matter of grace and favor, but of constitutional right."

"Certainly it is not unreasonable to question the wisdom of conferring such great powers upon any set of individuals, however wise or disinterested they may be, particularly when they are not selected by the people whose interests are affected and are not responsible to them."

"I have been unable to discover any general demand on the part of the people for this surrender of their right to regulate their own local affairs."

HESPERIAN WAS SUNK BY U-BOAT

All Doubt Was Removed Today When Affidavits by Officers Were Received in Washington.

STEEL FOUND ON THE DECK.

Orders Probe to Determine Whether Hesperian Was Hit by a Mine or a Torpedo

ONLY A PASSENGER LINER

(By United Press.)

Washington, Sept. 7.—The Hesperian was sunk by a submarine torpedo and not by a mine, without warning of any kind, according to a joint affidavit made by all of her officers, forwarded to the state department this afternoon by American Consul Frost at Queenstown. Fragments of steel from the torpedo east upon the ship's deck removes all doubt as to the theory that she was hit by a mine.

Doubts that the Allan liner was torpedoed were not entirely dispelled by Frost's message. The theory that it was blown up by a mine had gained strength.

Earlier word from Frost that there was much question on the point was deemed significant. It was believed he was in a position to know all.

From the first all officials deemed improbably after the unqualified assurance given to Secretary Lansing that German submarines would cease torpedoing passengers carrying ships without warning. Also the Hesperian was outside the recognized submarine warfare zone.

Full particulars were cabled from England but because the Hesperian sank many predicted it would never be possible to settle the dispute.

The United States today ordered an investigation by its representatives aboard to determine whether the Allan liner Hesperian hit a mine or was torpedoed. A long preliminary confirmation report from Consul Frost at Queenstown, said there was much doubt and that it was not conclusive that a torpedo caused the loss.

Ambassador Page today advised the state department that the Hesperian was sailing as an ordinary passenger liner and has never been in the government service since the war began and that no troops were aboard except some invalid Canadians traveling on regular passenger tickets.

what chance would we have of sending ours a distance of 3,000 miles?" Mr. Watson pointed out the fallacy of the free trade program of the Democrats. He showed that through all the years, labor owes the Republican party for all the good things it has received. Mr. Watson quoted from Samuel Gompers' book on labor conditions in Europe as compared to those in this country, showing that the laboring man is better taken care of under a protective tariff than free trade.

The crowd listened to Mr. Watson for two hours and gave him the best of attention. Short talks were made by all the state candidates present. Oswald Ryan, of Anderson, a former Progressive, spoke just before Mr. Watson. John W. McCardle presided at the meeting.

SAYS $226 OF HIS WAS TAKEN

August Ebbing Files Suit to Set Aside Final Report of His Receiver, Jesse E. Creed.

FUNDS FRAUDULENTLY HELD

Michael Kney, Bondsman For Receiver and Guardian of Ebbing's Daughter, a Defendant.

August Ebbing has filed a petition to set aside the final report and for judgment on a bond. The defendants in the suit are Jesse E. Creed and Michael Kney. Creed was appointed receiver for Ebbing and Kney was on his bond. In the petition to set aside the final report it is alleged that Creed failed to account for $226 and that he fraudulently, wrongfully and unlawfully concealed this amount of money, and purposedly omitted it from his final report. It is set out in the complaint that A. L. Gary, acting as special judge, approved the final report of the receiver.

The receiver for Ebbing was appointed while he was an inmate of the insane asylum. Kney is the guardian of Ebbing's two daughters, over which there has been much litigation.

Judge Raymond Springer took the bench in the circuit court today, acting as special judge in the injunction suit of Harry S. and Myrtle Conway against Phillip Wilk and William Redman, doing business under the firm name of Wilk and Company. Judge Springer sustained a motion filed by the plaintiffs to require the attorneys for the defendants to show their authority for appearing in the case.

In the motion it was alleged that several parties were interested that were not parties to the suit and it was pointed out that the attorneys might be appearing for this uninterested parties. The suit is the outgrowth of the building of the Forbes road in Ripley township. A compromise was reached at one time between Wilk & Co., and the present suit is the result of the work done under the compromise agreement.

Judge Blair sustained a motion of defendant, Ella M. McIlvaine to strike out parts of the second paragraph of the claim, filed by Harry M. Hudson. The original demand in the claim is $7,000.

SUE FOR LOSS OF A HORSE

Three Shippers Bring Action Against C. C. C. & St. L. Road.

The C. C. C. & St. L. railway and the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific railway, were made defendants in a damage suit filed this morning by William E. Inlow, Cyrus E. Inlow and George E. Ogden. The plaintiffs allege that on March 15, 1914, they shipped twenty-six head of horses from Kansas City, Mo., to Shelbyville, Ind., and that through the negligence and careless handling of the horses one animal was so severely injured that it died. It is alleged that the horse had a market value of $165. The demand in the complaint is $180. The complaint states that the twenty-six head of horses were worth $3,500.

MRS. WILL PEARSEY DIES OF DIABETIS

Disease Brought on by Injury She Suffered in Fall From Automobile About Two Years Ago.

MANY RELATIVES SURVIVE

Mrs. Clara B. Pearsey, 53 years old, wife of Will Pearsey, died last night at ten o'clock at her home in East Ninth street, following an illness of several months from diabetes. Mrs. Pearsey was injured about two years ago in a fall from an automobile and diabetes developed. The fall from the automobile caused Mrs. Pearsey to lose her sense of smell and taste.

Mrs. Pearsey was a widely known woman and was a daughter of the late Dr. W. H. Smith. She had been in a critical condition for some time and her death was expected. She is survived by her husband and two sons, Hale and Horace. She also leaves her mother, two sisters, Mrs. John H. Frazee, and Mrs. Lula Fish of Indianapolis, and two brothers, Dr. Will C. Smith and Walter E. Smith.

The funeral services will be conducted Wednesday afternoon at two o'clock at the late residence and burial will take place in East Hill cemetery.

(By United Press.)
Santa Monica, Cal., Sept. 7.—The movie world almost lost Charlie Chaplin. With Jesse Robinson and Lew Twompley, the famous comedian was buffeted about in a tiny launch off the long wharf near Santa Monica. Chaplin stuck to the launch and this morning wiggled a nearby Japanese fishing village which sent out a dory with supplies.

FINAL PLANS ARE TO BE ARRANGED

Executive Committee Will Meet Tonight to Determine What Yet is Needed For Ox Roast.

RECAPITULATION IN ORDER

Urged That Rushville and Rush County People All Act as Entertainment Committee.

The executive committee of the organization formed to prepare the ox roast and barbecue here one week from tomorrow will hold a meeting tonight to hear reports of the committees to see just what has been accomplished and to plan the work for the one week that remains before the feast.

There are still many things to be done before Rush county Republicans will be ready to entertain the hosts of people that are expected.

The revised list of things needed for the noon meal sent by N. D. Lawrence, the "burgoo" man, calls for forty or fifty chickens. The ox roast committee felt that it would be possible to find farmers who would donate the chickens and save the committee that much expense. There is considerable expense attached to the ox roast because of the immense quantity of food that has to be purchased. Any farmers who would like to donate chickens may notify John H. Kiplinger, chairman of the ox roast committee.

One thing that is being impressed on the Republicans of Rushville and Rush county is that they should all consider themselves a special committee on entertainment on the day the Republicans pour in here from all parts of the state.

It is declared that no Rushville or Rush county people, no matter of what political faith, should try to get their dinner at the city park until all of the guests are fed. It is pointed out that Rush county, by entertaining such a crowd as is now expected, can gain an enviable reputation as a host of unusual worth.

Some Rushville persons were recalling today an event of the nature to be held here at Detroit a few years ago. There was a big meal spread free of charge to all who came on Belle Isle. The Detroit people—that is a part of them—made such a demonstration of hogishness as has never been seen and the newspapers far and wide took up the cry and ridiculed the city. Such a reputation was established that Detroit had a hard time living it down. It is believed that the people of Rushville and Rush county will be genuine hosts and hostesses and will not allow any guest to say that they were not well treated here.

Word is expected most any time that the six hundred gallon kettle has arrived from Lexington, Ky. It is on the way and should be here very soon. The kettle will be a big attraction because many are anxious to see just what a kettle that big looks like.

Ivy company No. 35, Uniform Rank, Knights of Pythias, will meet at the K. of P. building tonight at eight o'clock to make arrangements for the funeral of A. M. Price.

ODD FELLOWS NOTICE.

All Odd Fellows will meet at the hall at 1 o'clock Wednesday for the purpose of attending the funeral of A. M. Price.

FOR PRICE FUNERAL.

All Knights of Pythias are requested to be at the hall at 1 o'clock Wednesday to attend the funeral of A. M. Price.

ASSAILS WILSON MEXICAN POLICY

James E. Watson Says he Will "Stand by President" When he Finds Just Where he is.

POPULAR CRY IS ALL BOSH

Former Congressman Presents "Inside" of Foreign Policy at Republican Basket Dinner.

(Special to the Daily Republican.)
Noblesville, Sept. 7.—The inconsistencies of President Wilson's Mexican policies were never better shown than yesterday by James E. Watson, addressing a large crowd at the picnic of the Hamilton county Republicans. Mr. Watson discussed the tariff, the merchant marine and ended by telling the large audience the facts about President Wilson and his attitude towards Mexico.

Mr. Watson stated that the president's Mexican policy was making this country the laughing stock of the world. He showed that the president had gone directly back on what he said in his Indianapolis speech regarding the interference of this country in Mexico.

"The old cry, 'stand by the president,' said Mr. Watson, 'is all bosh. He is being praised for his diplomacy, by the Democratic press and party when as a matter of fact he has done the worst job of bungling in the history of the country.'"

Mr. Watson gave the audience the "inside" of the Mexican situation. He stated that shortly after Wilson had been elected he went to the Bermudas for a vacation and while there met four members of the Madero family. These people poisoned the president against Huerta, according to Mr. Watson and from that time on the policy of this country has been against Huerta rather than against the people of that country.

Mr. Watson severely criticized the President for not protecting American lives and property in Mexico. He stated that Bryan, when secretary of state, even went so far as to issue a proclamation stating that the United States would not be responsible for American lives on foreign soil. According to Mr. Watson, President Wilson went so far in his hatred against Huerta as to ask congress for an appropriation to fight this man.

"They say the president avoided war with Mexico," said Mr. Watson. "The loss of sixteen Americans and 240 Mexicans and the capture of Vera Cruz constituted an act of war. Because of some trouble at Tampico, Huerta was ordered to salute the flag. Here was one of the inconsistencies. This country was not recognizing the Huerta government, but still he was asked to salute the flag. According to the Wilson way of thinking, Huerta did not own an ounce of powder, a single cannon and could not salute the flag if he had tried, but the president tried to make him salute the flag. He never did salute the flag.

"Then the president learned that Huerta was to get a ship load of ammunition and the navy was sent to Vera Cruz to prevent the landing of the arms. The city was captured, the ship of ammunition escaped and returned to Mobile. In a few days it sailed for another port and was landed for Huerta.

"Stand by the president," cry the Democrats. I will stand by him just as soon as I can find out where to locate him. He is now being praised for preventing war with Germany. Why, goodness gracious this country could not fight Germany if it wanted to. If England can't use its navy

(By United Press.)
Brownsville, Tex., Sept. 7.—Six Mexicans were killed in a clash with rangers at Cazazos crossing last evening, according to information reaching here today. The dead are said to include a captain and lieutenant from the Constitutionalists garrison at Metamorás. The reports briefly stated that the Americans laid a trap and the Mexicans walked into it. There were no American casualties.

OFFICIALS NOT CONVINCED

(By United Press.)
London, Sept. 7.—Eight hours before the liner Hesperian was torpedoed a submarine was sighted a few miles astern by passengers, according to press dispatches from Queens-town this afternoon. The Hesperian then adopted a zig zag course to avoid attack, the dispatches said. Officials merely reiterated their previous statements that all their reports showed the Hesperian commanders knew nothing of the approach of a submarine and therefore had no opportunity to attempt to escape.

MAKES UP BUDGET FOR THE NEXT YEAR

County Council Begins Annual Session to Appropriate Funds to Pay Expenses.

ABOUT $208,000 IS ASKED

The county council started work today making up the budget for next year. Something like $208,000 is to be appropriated at this session for the carrying on of the county's business for next year. The council discussed the proposed appropriations today but took no definite action as it is necessary to be in session two days to appropriate this large sum of money.

Joe Dickman, court house custodian struck a good day to ask the council for an appropriation for decorating the court house interior. The roof of the building has not leaked all summer, or rather since it was repaired by Dickman. He took the county council and the county commissioners to the court house attic today during the rain. Several bad leaks were found and Dickman was made the victim of a lot of "kidding" by both the council and the commissioners. Dickman promised to repair the leaks discovered today, and it is understood that several of the rooms will be redecorated.

MAYOR BELL PUT ON TRIAL TODAY

Attorneys For Defense Charge Accused in Conspiracy Cases Were Interested With.

DEFENDANTS ARE ADMITTED

Business of Selecting Jury Goes Forward Slowly Because of Prominence of Men.

(By United Press.)
Indianapolis, Ind., September 7.—Attorneys for the defense in the trial of Mayor Joseph E. Bell, which started today, in criminal court, charged in a statement in court before Judge W. H. Eichhorn, that bailiffs of the court had been interfering with the admittance of others accused in the election conspiracy charges. Judge Eichhorn issued no orders, but intimated that all those under indictment, but whose trial will come later will be admitted.

Prosecutor Rucker told the court that the bailiffs had been instructed to seat the 100 accused men and then admit others to the court room.

Frank P. Baker, former Marion county prosecutor, and one of the indicted men, had an altercation when a bailiff refused to admit him. Many uncomplimentary things were said. Thomas Taggart, Democratic national committeeman, was with Baker. After several minutes, they were admitted.

Business of securing a jury for this trial, of particular political interest to Indiana, went forward very slowly. An hour passed with many men offering an excuse that business would interfere with them serving on the jury.

Attorney Ryan for the defense presented a motion asking dismissal of seven men summoned by Sheriff Coffin for jury service when Coffin's deputies reported that seven men on the regular panel could not be found. Ryan contended that this action was taken under the jurisdiction of Judge Collins, who, he said, was not now judge. Judge Eichhorn took the motion under advisement until this afternoon.

When Mayor Joseph E. Bell, went on trial here today, charged with conspiring to corrupt the recent Marion county elections, the entire Democratic organization of the city and county went on trial with him.

The state organization also was connected with this trial, for Thomas Taggart, Democratic National committee from Indiana, is named in the indictment that brought Bell to trial. Taggart, Bell and Chief of Police Samuel V. Perrott and more than 100 other politicians were recently indicted by the Marion county grand jury following an investigation that continued for weeks. One petition of the defense separate trials were granted. The state elected to try Mayor Bell first.

For a time the public generally looked upon the indictment of the leaders with little seriousness until six of the defendants pleaded guilty when arraigned. When James ("Bud") unexpectedly pleaded guilty to the charge in this indictment just prior to his trial on another indictment, the public understood that the Democratic leaders had a fight on their hands.

Special Judge W. H. Eichhorn of Bluffton, presided today. He has a wide reputation in this state as a progressive Democrat and a fearless judge. Alvah J. Rucker was elected prosecutor on the Republican ticket at the election the defendants are alleged to have sought to corrupt.

The indictment consists of forty-eight counts which charge that commission of offenses that are felonies

SEED WHEAT IS SERIOUS TOPIC

Unusual Wet Season This Calls For

Extra Vigilance on Part of The Farmers

PURDUE EXPERT'S OPINION

While Many Have to Sow What They Have, Much Can be Done Toward Improving Quality

"The question of seed wheat for Indiana farmers is a serious one and deserves careful consideration," says Prof. M. L. Fisher of Purdue University. "The unusually wet season this year has left the seed wheat proposition in a serious condition. Very few farmers were able to thresh before the wet weather began. Still fewer took the precaution to put their wheat in the stack or mow. The result was that much of the wheat sprouted in the shock and some of it actually rotted where it stood in water. Observation at the various elevators throughout the State shows that the wheat being put on the market is of a very low grade, much of it grading not better than No. 4, and much of it grading as Sample. The condition of the wheat which is being marketed leads one to suppose that that which is to be used for seed is of very little better quality. If such wheat is to be sown, the results are sure to be disappointing.

"While the majority of the farmers will have to sow what they have, yet a great deal can be done to improve the quality of the seed. First of all the seed should be thoroughly cleaned with the farming mill. Not only should it be thoroughly cleaned, but it should be carefully screened. All of the sprouted grain and others which did not sprout but swelled up can be either fanned out or screened out. The medium sized grains which have not swollen from being wet in the shock will make the best seed. In fact it will be better to sow the small plump grains rather than the large grains. Two or three times through the fanning mill with attention given to the screens will so greatly improve the quality of the wheat that it can be sown with assurance of success.

have heated after it was threshed, due to the fact that it was put in the bin or in a large heap when it was too damp. Such heating has been destroying the germinating quality of the grain. Where the grain has been heated it will be well to make a germinating test to see what the germinating quality of the grain is. This germinating test can be very easily made by counting out three one-hundred grain lots and sowing them in a box or in the garden, or they can be germinated on plates between folds of damp cloth. Three lots should be used in order to have a careful check on the results. After the wheat has come up or sprouted, counts should be made to see what per cent of germination has taken place. If less than 90 per cent germinates, the amount of seed corn sown per acre should be increased over the usual rate or else new seed obtained.

"In connection with the poor condition of wheat due to the wet season, a word might also be said concerning the condition of seed wheat generally. Observation shows that a large amount of the wheat brought to the elevators is made up of many varieties and is also badly infested with weed seeds, like cockle and cheat. Evidently the seed which was sown contained these seeds in considerable numbers. Yields would be better and grades higher if more attention was given to sowing pure varieties and cleaned seed. Many farmers are making a specialty of pure seeds, and clean and pure seed can usually be obtained if attention is given to the matter. The weed seeds can be removed by careful fanning and where this does not seem to be worth while it would be better to purchase new seed."

BALL IS TRIED BY COURT MARTIAL

State Militiaman Goes on Trial For His Life Before a Jury of Thirteen Officers

SHOT PRIVATE DOWELL IN 1913

Only Majority of Military Court is Needed to Convict—What Ball's Defense Will be

(By United Press.)

Indianapolis, Sept. 7.—Militiaman Edwin C. Ball today went on trial for his life in the state house. It is believed to be the first time in the history of Indiana a member of the state guard was tried by court martial on the charge of murder.

Walter Dowell, a member of the company from Madison, was shot and fatally wounded by Ball, a sergeant, who was detailed to do provost duty.

Ball's defense today was that he was acting under military orders when he commanded Dowell to halt and that when Dowell failed to halt on command, he shot to kill, following army instructions.

Ball was on provost duty at the national guard encampment at Fort Benjamin Harrison here. It was in July, 1913. Dowell was under suspicion of smuggling liquor into camp. Sergeant Ball had arrested him and was taking his prisoner into camp on an interurban car when Dowell leaped from the car and ran.

Two-thirds of the military court of thirteen officers is needed to convict. The court as named in an order issued by Adj. Gen. Bridges, includes the following.

Col. Henri T. Conde, of Indianapolis, commander of the Second regiment; Lieut. Col. Thomas B. Coulter, Vincennes, Second Regiment; Mayor S. N. Markley, Columbia City, First, battalion, Third Regiment; Major Emmett F. Branch, Martinsville, Second battalion, Second regiment; Major Clyde F. Dreisbach, Fort Wayne, Third battalion, Second regiment; Maj. Geo. H. Healey, Rensselaer, Second battalion, Third regiment; Capt. Edward Otto, Crawfordville, Company C, Second regiment; Capt. William P. Carpenter, Indianapolis, quartermaster's corps; Capt. Albert Catlin, Terre Haute, quartermaster's corps; Capt. Ernest E. Chenoweth, Winchester, Company F., Second regiment; Capt. John C. Lochner, Auburn, in charge of commissary, Third regiment; Capt. Laurant A. Douglass, Jeffersonville, Company M, Second regiment; Capt. Alexander W. Osborn, Evansville, Company E., Second regiment and Maj. Gideon W. Blaine, Indianapolis judge advocate.

Blaine, who is an Indianapolis attorney, acted as prosecutor. Under military custom the judge advocate has more latitude than a civil or criminal judge. He may also act as defense attorney, stating the case on both sides. This was unnecessary in this case, as Ball had attorneys.

(The Beauty Seeker.)

"The real secret of keeping young-looking and beautiful," says a well-known physician, "is to keep the liver and bowels normally active. Without these requisites, poisonous waste products remain in the system, polluting the blood and causing a variety of ailments, such as pimples, blotches, skin eruptions, etc. One becomes flabby, obese, nervous, mentally sluggish, dull-eyed, winoed and sallow of face. But to get liver and bowels working as they ought without producing evil after-effects, has been the problem. Fortunately, there is a prescription of unquestioned merit, which may now be had in convenient tablet form. Its value is due largely to an ingredient derived from the humble May apple, or its root, which has been called 'vegetable calomel' because of its effectiveness—though of course it is not to be classed with the real calomel of mercurial origin. There is no habit-forming constituent in 'santal' tablets, and it is not followed by weakness or exhaustion. On the contrary, these harmless vegetable tablets tend to impart tone and elasticity to the relaxed intestinal wall. Santal tablets, which may be procured from any druggist—a dime's worth will do—will prove a revelation to any constipated, liver-troubled person."

Chief Cause of Pimples, Blotches, Sallow Skin

(Messenger of Health.)

Unslightly eruptions, pimples, boils, blotches, sallow or muddy skin, usually are due to a sluggish liver, a constipated bowels and a various blood stream as a consequence. How foolish in such cases to resort to outward applications, which can never have natural, permanent results. If more people only knew it, there is a very simple remedy, to be found in any drug store, which is as effective as it is harmless and quick acting. It is an old formula long recognized by the medical profession, which has been put in tablet form, and at such small cost no one need now be deprived of its wonderful benefits.

"Santal tablets"—that's the name—are entirely vegetable and there's no habit-forming ingredient. You need only get about a dime's worth, and swallow one at bedtime to realize there's nothing else quite so good for the purpose. The action in the morning is so easy, so soothing, and instead of a weakening after-effect, you feel truly refreshed and invigorated. Santal tablets are not only the finest remedy known for constipation and torpid liver, but offer the sanest, most sensible treatment for complexion difficulties of the character mentioned.

Great Demand for New Constipation Remedy

They say that the advent of the "santal tablet" as a vegetable substitute for calomel has resulted in an extraordinary demand for this remarkable product. It seems to have made a bit particularly with those afflicted with chronic constipation, who were quick to recognize its advantages over calomel and the usual laxatives.

Santal tablets, aside from their efficacy, doubtless owe their success largely to a tendency to aid in bringing about natural functions, instead of weakening, by using the "cathartic habit." Also, instead of injuring the membranous lining of the organs involved, they exert a healing influence. Instead of weakening, they add tone to the intestinal wall. And they work so easily and gently, they are of course preferred on this account to the violently acting purgatives. Their inexpensiveness is another reason for the popularity of santal tablets. One need procure only a dime's worth, and take one tablet upon retiring, to be convinced that the ideal remedy for constipation, torpid liver, and their many evil consequences, has finally been found.—Druggists Review.

FUNERAL TO BE HELD WEDNESDAY AT 2 P.M.

Body of A. M. Price, Who Dropped Dead at Indianapolis, Arrives Here Monday Night.

AT HITCHRACK FOR 11 YEARS

The funeral services of A. M. Price, hitchrack tender, who dropped dead while marching with Ivy company No. 35, Uniform Rank, Knights of Pythias, of this city, at the "War in Indiana" maneuvers at the Indianapolis motor Speedway, Monday afternoon, will be held at the First Baptist church, of which he was a member, at two o'clock Wednesday afternoon, conducted by Rev. S. G. Huntington.

Russell D. Price, of this city, who was in one of the grandstands at the Speedway, when his father died, had been chatting with him when they entered the gate, not more than five minutes before death came. The younger Mr. Price remarked to a friend that his father seemed a bit excited, but thought nothing of it. His father had never suffered from heart trouble and had never had a serious sickness.

In addition to his membership in the Knights of Pythias for thirty years, he was an Odd Fellow and a social member of the Modern Woodmen. Mr. Price was born in Washington county, Pennsylvania April 15, 1849 and came to Decatur county, Indiana, early in life with his parents, later locating here. An error was made Monday in stating he was a civil war veteran. He attempted to enter, but was refused admittance because he was too young. He was in charge of the hitchrack here eleven years.

HARLAN OVERLEESE RECOVERS PROPERTY

Discovers That Bert Pierse, Sent to Penal Farm, Pawned Watch in Shelbyville For $2.50.

PIERSE WROTE HIM LETTER

Harlan P. Overleese of Greensburg, whose watch, chain and Elk charm was stolen by Bert Pierse, a professed millionaire, who left here yesterday to serve eighty days in the state penal farm for neglecting to pay a board bill at the Windsor hotel, Monday recovered his stolen property in Shelbyville. Pierse had pawned the whole outfit to a Shelbyville business man for $2.50.

Overleese had filed a grand larceny charge against Pierse and the Greensburg police were looking for him when the Rushville police went to Shelbyville and nabbed him last Friday night.

After being convicted here, Pierse wrote Overleese a letter and told him to whom he had pawned the watch, chain and charm. The letter did not reach Overleese until he had recovered the property.

Pierse filched the watch and other ornaments in a high-handed manner. He asked to examine them and then walked out while Overleese was not looking.

under the laws of the state. It covers 224 typewritten pages. Conviction on the charge of conspiracy to commit a felony carries with it a fine of not less than $25 or more than $5,000 or imprisonment in the state prison for not less than two years nor more than fourteen years.

The first count charges that certain election officials conspired with other defendants to permit unknown persons to take out of the ballot boxes ballots of voters legally voting for the purpose of substituting other ballots in their place. Succeeding counts allege tampering with tally sheets, and other papers, illegal destruction of ballots, entering false names on the poll books, bribery, intimidation of voters etc. Mayor Bell is named in each of the counts.

When court convened today the general prediction was that a stiff fight would be made in the selection of a jury. Various predictions of two days to ten days were made for the time to be required in this selection. A special venire of 150 men was ready.

BELIEVE THEY HAVE FAIR JUDGE

Both Sides in Joe Bell Criminal Case Think W. Eichorn of Bluffton Will be Impartial

CHOICE OF ALL LAWYERS

(By United Press.)

Indianapolis, Sept. 7.—In Judge W. Eichorn of Bluffton who is to preside in the trial of Mayor Joseph E. Bell, which opened today, both the defendants and the state believe they have a court that is fair and impartial. When Judge James A. Collins allowed the motion of the defense that another judge be chosen to preside, Judge Eichorn was the unanimous choice of Prosecutor Rucker and the attorneys for the indicted men.

Judge Eichorn has a good record as jurist and as a lawyer. In 1912 he was elected for the judgeship of the Twenty-eighth judicial circuit which comprises Wells and Blackford counties. During his three years on the bench he has not had a motion for change of judge filed in his court.

The Bluffton judge is forty-nine years old and has been prominent in Northern Indiana for a number of years. His first office was that of county superintendent to which he was elected in 1891 and to which he was re-elected in 1893. He resigned before the expiration of the second term to enter the practice of law. In 1897 he was elected to the House of Representatives and reelected in 1899 in which session he was the minority candidate for speaker.

Because of his reputation of fairness and honesty, Judge Eichorn has presided as special judge in a large number of trials.

RAIN STORM LOCAL IN ITS CHARACTER

Reports Reaching Here This Afternoon Were That it Did not Rain on Northern Edge of County.

MUCH CORN IS BLOWN DOWN

Although local in character, the storm about noon today was probably the most severe of the year. The wind was of greater velocity than usual for summer storms and threatened to do considerable damage. There were several very brilliant flashes of lightning and loud claps of thunder, but no reports have reached here of damage done by lightning.

A few miles north of Rushville there was only a little rain and at the northern edge of the county no rain fell at all. The storm came up out of the southwest suddenly like a summer thunder storm. Farmers who came to Rushville this afternoon say that much corn was blown down. They say the corn is so heavy this year that it will not rise again, once it is bent over the least bit.

The officers and teachers of the First Presbyterian Sunday school will hold the first of their fall meetings tomorrow evening in the parlors of the church at 7:30.

Patience Lost.

The Madison Democrat has lost patience with the fellows in the donkey's saddle in Indiana. The editor takes issue with Democratic state press agent who, the editor says, is trying to cover up the nefarious work of the 1913 legislature.

The Democrat asserts that President Wilson's record, "who has aimed to do just what was right," is the only thing that will save the Democratic party in Indiana next year. The editor of the Democrat fails to take into consideration that the world is full of people who are doing what they think is right. That does not make it right.

But listen to how the Democratic party in Indiana is fast racing to the eternal "bowbows" and for which there would be no hope, were it not for the president:

"The Indianapolis writer who is sending out his daily writeups supposed to be in the interest of the Democratic party, and for free publication in the democratic press of the state, would have more effect if he would stick closely to the truth. He must remember the public today are well posted on public affairs, as all are readers of the daily press; and he must be a backwoodsman, indeed, who does not remember the 1913 Legislature and its nefarious bills and salary grabs due, not to the democratic party, but those who were running the democratic party, among them several that are now serving time in the Federal prison.

The democratic party is all right. It is the true party of the people. But when rogues and dishonest politicians get hold of the reins, as they have in past in many cases, then it becomes the servant of private and special interests.

"This particular writer is striving to cover up all this devilry of the past, and instead of holding up before the people the true principles of the party, is striving to whitewash the linen of the men who have been dragging the party into the dirt and befouling themselves have made honest men suspicious even of the party.

"The only thing that will save the democratic party in Indiana next year will be President Wilson's record, who has aimed to do just what he thought was right, ignoring the councils of the men who were working for self interest. It behooves the honest leaders of the party in Indiana to bestir themselves, not trying to hide the sins of the men who have driven honest men from the party, but holding up the party principles as the fathers gave them to use, and showing a determination to see that those principles are honestly carried out and dishonest leaders set aside."

CALEB MILLS

Among the greatest benefactors of Indiana was Caleb Mills, the Horace Mann of Indiana, the "Father of the common schools." Fresh from Dartmouth he came to Crawfordsville in 1833, when twenty-seven years old, to start a Presbyterian college. Appalled at the ignorance and illiteracy of the people, he began to preach the gospel of education. In a series of most remarkable addresses to the legislatures of 1846-50 and to the Constitutional convention of 1852, known as the "Read, Circulate, Discuss, Pamphlets," he portrayed the dark conditions and outlined a program of reform. His style was crystal clear, sparkled with wit and glowed with the eloquence of the advocate who pleads for those he loves. The Constitutional convention made provision for a system of free schools, and the first battle was won.

"There has been a violent bombardment of the Forest of Apremont."—From the French Communiqué of Aug. 5.

With the French Army at the front, Aug. 5. (By Mail)—When the performances of Bernhardt, Irving, Duse and Mansfield cease to be anything but faint recollections I shall still remember quite vividly an unpretentious vaudeville show given by soldiers to soldiers out here in the open air 1500 yards back of a certain famous woods through which a must unhealthy part of the firing-line runs.

The performers were soldiers; the stage was built by soldiers with scraps of lumber collected here and there; the curtain was painted by a cavalryman on tarpaulins which had served in the beginning as covers for boxes of ammunition; the sky and a few walnut trees played the part of roof, while that part of the regimental band not busy bearing wounded on stretchers off the battlefield, furnished the music, these men and a young, stoutish surgeon-lieutenant who doubled on the piano when not stage-managing the acts.

The bill was the regular bill. It was not specially arranged for visitors. Since Jan. 14 this "house" has been playing to standing room only two performances a day, at 2 p. m. and at 6. Sometimes—as often as possible—the bill changes, sometimes the headliner fails to be on hand for his cue; a shell or a bullet has interfered. But always, rain or shine, good or bad, the curtain "goes up" on time and the soldiers on their repose week (usually they have a week in and a week back of the trenches) never miss a performance.

As 6 p. m. drew near the plank benches in front were creaking under their maximum burden and hundreds of other poilus—the soldiers' nickname for himself, meaning shaggy, were standing at the back and on either side. A heavy rain began to fall precisely at 6 o'clock but the fat surgeon, on opening the piano, turned and shouted.

"Poilus, you don't mind a little thing like a few drops of rain do you?"

"No!" the poilus thundered back and the surgeon, sitting down in a very wet chair began pounding out an astonished intermezzo on a no doubt greatly outraged piano. For, being in the place where the orchestra usually sits the piano as well as pianist was catching the full force of the young cloudburst. Every time a chubby finger struck a key there was a splash.

As the curtains parted the Germans began to bombard the French positions a short distance away. The explosions of shells punctuated every spoken line which followed and beat time to the music as if jealous of the big base drum.

A clown in costume and make-up which only the ingenuity of a French soldier can account for, rushed out and began to sing and grimace. The audience roared. It was clear that he was a favorite. He was just back from the trenches and as he jabbered a comic patter song, grimaces and antics like any Barnum & Bailey star, one caught sight of his articulation number bound by a steel chain to his wrist; for identification in case he fails to dodge a bullet some day. The clown sang on and when he got round to the chorus his comrades in front joined in. A captain of dragoons, occupying the seat on a bench reserved for officers, sang and laughed with the others, freely and without reserve, yet I recognized in this captain's count and member of one of the proudest families in the Faubourg nobility of Paris.

The clown with his identification tag gave way amid applause to an acrobatic soldier—in peace times a professional—wearing the pink tights of tradition. He too, had a tag on his wrist. A horizontal bar had been rigged upon the stage and as the soldier in pink tights began to girate upon it, the "comic" partner came out and "comicked" in the way everyone who has ever seen a variety show knows. Under his very much too large "comic" dress coat, on a very muscular wrist, was his in-case-of-death tag never letting one forget that just over the ridge a ways death was falling out of the skies at that very minute. The tags and the bombardment made the war seem very near.

An imitator of Houdini came next, wriggling out of handcuffs, padlocks and chains, ropes and other queer paraphernalia. No chains seemed too securely fastened about him for him to free himself of it—save the one which held the plaque which would identify him if some day he and a shell should get too well acquainted.

After him a British Red Cross attendant, in khaki, sang "Alexander's Rag Time Band" exercisingly bad to much applause from his allies. And when he completely broke down as to voice he laughed good naturedly and allowed his legs to do a not bad "Burrard Lope."

Last on the bill, save the movies—they have movies at many points along the front now—came a singer, an ordinary-looking soldier in an everyday uniform considerably the worse for trench-wear. He was of less than average height and not even his small blond mustache could lift his appearance to one of very great dignity. I was told that in private life he was a cobbler, so as the surgeon splashed into a bar of a dreamy and rather pretty ballad, I feared the worse, feeling not a little kindly towards the Germans who were now making more noise than ever with their bombardment. With the singers' first notes, however I changed my mind. The notes were like pure gold.

Boom! Bang! went the Prussian shells close by.

"'Twas just a tiny flower dropped besides my way!" sang the French soldier, paying no attention to the noise. He put all the artistic interpretation of a Caruso, in his song.

B a a a a a; went another shell.

"Just a little rosebud fallen from her hand!" This line came as an incongruous response to the terrific explosion.

B o o o o o m! B o o o o o m! More high explosives seemed to make the leaves tremble but the tenor-warrior-shoemaker with his hand on his heart continued to the end of his refrain and bowed before the tempest of applause. He had to take an encore and he deserved it, every hand-clap of it, so again, with piano, flute clarinet and the patter of rain accompanying him, he repeated the verse, while the big guns chimed in a good substitute for the band drum, now soaked and out of commission.

"'Twas just a tiny flower dropped beside my way!" Just a little rosebud fallen from her hand!

But Cupid cuddled in it and with his little lay Turned all things to golden, like Midas, in the land!" (Tomorrow—Women at the Front.)

TRESPASSED LIMITATIONS

Congress Overstepped Its Bounds in

One Section of Federal Reserve Board Act

SPEECH AT BANKERS MEET

Henry M. Campbell of Detroit Refers to Section Confering Trustee Powers on Banks

(By United Press.)

Seattle, Wash., Sept. 7.—That Congress trespassed constitutional limitations in one section of the Federal Reserve Board Act and that the Reserve Board is going beyond its rights in proceeding under that section was the declaration of Henry M. Campbell, of Detroit, to the American Bankers Association today. The section he referred to is that permitting the board to confer trustee powers on national banks. It was the principal discussion of the opening day of the convention, attended by hundreds of bankers, though a discussion of the relations between the railroads and the people led by President William Spruille of the Southern Pacific on the one hand and Rev. John W. Hill of Seattle on the other divided interest with it.

Congress did the damage complained of, Campbell said, in a four-line paragraph which said the Reserve Board should have power "To grant by special permit to national banks applying there for, where not in contravention of state or local law, the right to act as trustee, executor, administrator or registrar of stocks and bonds, under such rules and regulations as the said Board may prescribe."

"From the beginning of our government," he said, "fiduciary trusts have been defined and regulated by local law; the administration of estates has belonged exclusively to the states where the property of the deceased is located, and the subjects upon which the inhabitants of a state may contract have been prescribed by state authority. The state laws pertaining to these matters fill volumes of our state statutes. They vary in the several states according to local requirements and are the result of years of effort on the part of the representatives of the people affected by them. By virtue of this brief paragraph of four lines, if valid, all these statutes may be set at naught."

"In order to arrive at a solution of this problem, three questions must be considered:

"First.—Has Congress itself authority, under the Federal Constitution, to confer upon national banks the right to exercise the powers stated in Section 11 (k)?"

"Second.—If it can lawfully do so itself, can it delegate such authority to the Federal Reserve Board?"

"Third.—If neither the Federal Reserve Board nor Congress itself can confer such powers upon national banks, have the states, or any of them, consented to the exercise of them, and if so, will consent on the part of the state be effective?"

Answering his own first question, Campbell said there was nothing to be found in the Constitution giving Congress authority to create corporations for any purpose though it has the implied authority to create them as appropriate instruments for carrying into effect the powers of the government.

"No one will contend," he said, "that the right to act as trustee, executor, administrator or registrar of stocks and bonds is in any sense necessary to the administration of the affairs of the Federal government. Neither is such right an integral or essential part of the business carried on by national banks. It is not a banking function. Therefore the section cannot be

sustained upon any theory of implied powers.

He disposed of his own second question by declaring Congress could not delegate authority to the Reserve Board to create a corporation or add to a corporation's powers, because such an act involves legislative discretion and can only be exercised by the Legislature.

As for various states giving consent—his third question—he declared.

"To do so would, in effect, be to permit the state legislature to amend the Federal Constitution. In other words, it is impossible to give effect to the section without violating the constitutional rights of the states. Two sovereign powers cannot occupy exclusive authority over the same object any more than two solid bodies can occupy the same space at the same time.

The answer to the third question must be that no state has consented to the exercise of the powers specified in the section upon the terms and conditions there stated, and that consent on the part of the state, even if granted, would be ineffectual.

"Before the theory of Section 11 can be carried out, an amendment to the Federal Constitution would be required under which the states surrender their sovereign authority over many of their local affairs and permit Congress to designate by whom and in what manner such affairs shall be administered. Such an amendment would not accord with our tradition, and would constitute an unwarranted invasion of rights which have heretofore been jealously guarded by the people. It is contrary to the spirit of American liberty and dangerous as well, than any man, or body of men, shall have the unrestricted power to say to one bank, 'You may act as trustee, executor, administrator or registrar of bonds,' and to another bank, 'You shall not,' or to dictate to the favored bank the manner in which it shall make use of the privileges thus granted.

"There is also something repugnant in the idea that a man from one part of the country, unfamiliar with local needs, possesses the power to impose his ideas upon a far distant community with which perhaps he has nothing in common, and of whose ideas and necessities he is ignorant. Local self government is not a matter of grace and favor, but of constitutional right.

"Certainly it is not unreasonable to question the wisdom of conferring such great powers upon any set of individuals, however wise or disinterested they may be, particularly when they are not selected by the people whose interests are affected and are not responsible to them.

"I have been unable to discover any general demand on the part of the people for this surrender of their right to regulate their own local affairs."

EXAMINE SCHOOL CITY.

Two new state accountants arrived today and are installed in the auditor's office at the court house. Their names are Thad. L. Frazier and Ure Majors. They are going over the records of the Rushville school city trustees.

HESPERIAN WAS SUNK BY U-BOAT

All Doubt Was Removed Today When

Affidavits by Officers Were Received in Washington.

STEEL FOUND ON THE DECK.

Orders Probe to Determine Whether Hesperian Was Hit by a Mine or a Torpedo

ONLY A PASSENGER LINER

(By United Press.)

Washington, Sept. 7.—The Hesperian was sunk by a submarine torpedo and not by a mine, without warning of any kind, according to a joint affidavit made by all of her officers, forwarded to the state department this afternoon by American Consul Frost at Queenstown. Fragments of steel from the torpedo cast upon the ship's deck removes all doubt as to the theory that she was hit by a mine.

Doubts that the Allan liner was torpedoed were not entirely dispelled by Frost's message. The theory that it was blown up by a mine had gained strength.

Earlier word from Frost that there was much question on the point was deemed significant. It was believed he was in a position to know all.

From the first all officials deemed improbably after the unqualified assurance given to Secretary Lansing that German submarines would cease torpedoing passengers carrying ships without warning. Also the Hesperian was outside the recognized submarine warfare zone.

Full particulars were cabled from England but because the Hesperian sank many predicted it would never be possible to settle the dispute.

The United States today ordered an investigation by its representatives aboard to determine whether the Allen liner Hesperian hit a mine or was torpedoed. A long preliminary confirmation report from Consul Frost at Queenstown, said there was much doubt and that it was not conclusive that a torpedo caused the loss.

Ambassador Page today advised the state department that the Hesperian was sailing as an ordinary passenger liner and has never been in the government service since the war began and that no troops were aboard except some invalid Canadians traveling on regular passenger tickets.

ASSAILS WILSON MEXICAN POLICY

what chance would we have of sending ours a distance of 3,000 miles?"

Mr. Watson pointed out the fallacy of the free trade program of the Democrats. He showed that through all the years, labor owes the Republican party for all the good things it has received. Mr. Watson quoted from Samuel Gompers' book on labor conditions in Europe as compared to those in this country, showing that the laboring man is better taken care of under a protective tariff than free trade.

The crowd listened to Mr. Watson for two hours and gave him the best of attention. Short talks were made by all the state candidates present. Oswald Ryan, of Anderson, a former Progressive, spoke just before Mr. Watson. John W. McCordle presided at the meeting.

Short talks were made by Arthur

R. Robinson, state senator from Indianapolis, Fred Purnell of Attica, "Deacon" Roach of Delphi, who desires to succeed Martin A. Morrison in Congress; Ele Stansbury of Williamsport, candidate for attorney general; U. S. Lesh of Huntington and Truman H.
